

Thank you for your interest in our Lottie Shaw's hamper.

All of our products are individually packaged and the nutritional and allergen information is clearly printed on the back of every product.

Our bakery handles nuts and is not a gluten free environment.

If you require any information in relation to specific allergens or nutritional information please contact us prior to purchase where we can provide you with any specific information that you require.