as the marshmallowist i like to do things a little differently — i handcraft soufflé marshmallows from fruits, organic herbs & botanical extracts. having trained as a chocolatier in paris, i started my business on portobello road market, creating marshmallows which blend artisanal french methods with a signature london edge. each marshmallowist mallow combines classic confectionery with experimental flavours & i only ever use the best quality ingredients.

no colourings. no flavourings. intriguingly creative.

with mallow love
