how to take

chew each piece thoroughly to release the coating giving an almost instant effect cbme fruit pieces are generously coated in our relieve cbd blend rather than infused, allowing the blend to absorb through the mucus membrane under the tongue for faster results.

the remaining cbd blend will then absorb through the digestive tract when swallowed giving our body a second chance at absorbing all the natural goodness and providing a longer lasting effect that will take effect with the turmeric root and black pepper.

when to take relieve is there to assist with your post workout recovery, soothing muscle aches and pains, and ease troublesome joints.

use a piece before bedtime or after your evening workout.

cbme functional apricots are packed with the powerhouses that help to naturally control inflammatory responses and oxidative stress within the body, both of which contribute to muscle soreness, and pain in your muscles and joints.

when taken daily, relieve could be great to support anyone managing with joint or inflammatory pain, helping to protect the health of joints and bones, and maintain joint flexibility.
